CANOEING

Ontario's innumerable lakes and rivers make the province one of the most attractive places to canoe. There are placid waters for the novice, challenging wilderness routes down the mighty rivers of the far north, whitewater rapids for the adventurous, and sea-kayaking on Georgian Bay.

Some of Ontario's finest canoeing may be found in its provincial parks. Three great wilderness parks in particular offer a superb experience -

ALGONQUIN PROVINCIAL PARK offers 1,600 km (1,000 miles) of canoe routes among its blue-black lakes and streams, its rolling maple forests and spruce bogs.

KILLARNEY PROVINCIAL PARK, whose rugged beauty, turquoise lakes and white quartzite ridges inspired members of the Group of Seven artists, offers canoeists a range of opportunities on routes which take from two to seven days.

QUETICO PROVINCIAL PARK, 4,500 km<sup>2</sup> of rolling Shield wilderness and hundred of kilometres of interconnected lakes and rivers, has a worldwide canoeing reputation. Most of the canoeing is on lakes, and there are numerous routes taking from three to 20 days.

The Temagami region offers 10,000 km<sup>2</sup> of canoe country through beautiful forests with stands of ancient red and white pine.

And far northern rivers such as the Albany, the Missinaibi and the Mattagami challenge the wilderness skills of the expert canoeist and offer a supreme adventure.

For information on where to get route and other maps, see page 41.

The following pages are a guide to the numerous canoe outfitters in the province who can supply everything you need for your canoeing holiday. Suppliers may offer canoe rentals only (= canoe, paddles and life jackets), partial outfitting (= basic canoe rentals plus minor tenting equipment if so desired) or complete outfitting (= canoe rental plus complete tenting equipment and food if desired).

A list of package canoe and kayak trips follows, starting on page 19. Reservations should be made well in advance to avoid disappointment.

WHITEWATER EXPEDITIONS

Experience the thrill of whitewater rafting - a roller-coaster ride through the roaring rapids!

Just 90 minutes west of the nation's capital, the stretch of the Ottawa River known as Rocher Fendu (in English it means "split rock") cuts through the rocks of the Canadian Shield to create challenging whitewater. In spring the water levels are at their highest, with the river in spate - through the summer the rapids change, so that the experience is never the same.

Rafting packages, combined with a variety of other activities such as kayaking and boardsailing, are offered by several operators. No experience is necessary for the rafting, but if you get bitten by the bug, a weekend's fun, relaxation and entertainment can be combined with a chance to learn the skills necessary for whitewater canoeing and kayaking. For those skilled in whitewater techniques, exciting stretches of rapids await on many of Ontario's rivers.

Various operators with a program of canoe and kayak trips also offer whitewater packages. For information, please see the section Package Canoe and Kayak Trips, pages 19-27.

PLEASE NOTE - reservations are essential for whitewater rafting packages. Weekends are especially busy, and in some cases bookings must be made months in advance to avoid disappointment.

HIKING

For those who like the feel of the good earth beneath their feet, what simpler, yet more exhilarating activity could there be than walking. Ontario's varied landscapes offer many different forms of beauty, and all can be enjoyed on the host of marked trails available, from the short nature trails at a local conservation area, to the over 700 kilometres of the Bruce Trail.

"Back to Nature" can be as active as rock-climbing and wilderness survival, or as intense as the search for that rare species of bird or wildflower. This section gives you some more information on how to explore, either on your own, or as part of an organized group.

PROVINCIAL PARKS

In addition to some of the province's finest canoeing, Ontario's provincial parks offer a wide variety of backpacking experiences, from short interpretive trails to long-distance, overnight hiking, with wilderness camping in the interior. The following is a list of some parks with extensive trail systems.

ALGONQUIN PROVINCIAL PARK offers many hiking trails, two of which are the Highland Hiking Trail and the Western Uplands Hiking Trail.

The Highland Hiking Trail extends from Pewee Lake to Head, Harness and Mosquito Lakes, with the return trip totalling 35 km (22 miles). There is a "shortcut" trail which goes from Pewee Lake and circles Provoking Lake (total 19 km [12 miles]). Numerous campsites are available along the route, especially along the lakes.

The Western Uplands Hiking Trail includes three loops with round-trip lengths of 32 km, 55 km and 77 km respectively. The trail begins at the Oxtongue River Picnic Grounds, at Kilometre 3 on Highway 60, and is also accessible via the Rain Lake Access Point. It is designed for backpackers who wish to explore on foot the rugged hills of Algonquin's west side. Experienced hikers will have little difficulty covering the first loop in three days, sleeping out two nights, and correspondingly longer times would be required for the second and third loops.

A brochure "Backpacking Trails of Algonquin Provincial Park" is available at a cost of $1.50, plus postage and handling from the park, or from the Public Information Centre in Toronto. (For addresses, see Sources of Further Information, Page 41.)

BON ECHO PROVINCIAL PARK offers the Abes and Essens Lakes Overnight Hiking Trail system, consisting of three interconnected loops - a short 4 km (2.5 mile) loop, a 9 km (5.6 mile) loop with two campsites, and a 17 km (10.6 mile) loop with three campsites. The trails pass scenic lakes and are especially attractive in the autumn.

FRONTENAC PROVINCIAL PARK is a hiker's paradise, with over 180 km of hiking trails to explore such intriguing areas as Moulton Gorge, the Arkon Lake Bogs, the Black Lake homestead and the Connor-Daly Mine - to mention just a few. The park offers opportunities for both day users and wilderness campers as its campsites are accessible by canoe or hiking only.

HALFWAY LAKE PROVINCIAL PARK offers hikers the pure beauty of the boreal forest, the silence of spruce-scented glens and the solitude of unchanged lakes. There are four trails - Moose Ridge Trail (4 km), Echo Pond Trail (10 km), Hawk Ridge Trail (25 km) and Osprey Heights Trail (7 km). Although the terrain is northern, it is not too difficult, and therefore good for family hiking.

KILLARNEY PROVINCIAL PARK offers over 100 km (60 miles) of hiking on the La Cloche Silhouette Trail, which features a variety of terrain, including centuries-old hemlock forest, beaver meadows, crystal-clear lakes and extremely rugged terrain. The trail's main attraction is Silver Peak, towering 370 m (1,214') above Georgian Bay and offering views of more than 80 km on a clear day. Sections of the trail may be done either in a day by backtracking, since the routes are not loop trails, or the whole trail may be covered in seven to ten days, in which case hikers should be equipped to be self-sufficient for the duration of the trip. Ridge walking is also a popular activity in the park due to the open nature of the terrain, but should only be attempted by experienced hikers.

LAKE SUPERIOR PROVINCIAL PARK provides the wilderness hiker with opportunities to explore the rugged interior and coastline of Lake Superior. An extensive network of trails, ranging in travelling time from two hours to several days, is being developed.

SLEEPING GIANT PROVINCIAL PARK has over 80 km (50 miles) of trails available for day use or overnight camping. The Kabeyun trail is 40 km (25 miles) in length and provides hikers with breathtaking views of Lake Superior and the 244 m (800') cliffs of the Sleeping Giant. Other trails are the Burma Trail (10 km), Two Pine Lake and Talis Lake trails (5 km) and the Sawyer Bay Trail (6.5 km).

WAKAMI LAKE PROVINCIAL PARK offers hikers the opportunity of backpacking on a 65 km (41 miles) trail that circles the lake. Users can go over the "height of land" and see abandoned logging camps and a trading post, remnants of early commerce and industry in a vegetative transition zone between boreal and Great Lakes forest.

HIKE ONTARIO

There are eight long-distance hiking trails in Ontario, built and maintained by volunteers, which are co-ordinated by the Hike Ontario association. Each trail has its own personality and in total they cross more than 2,100 km (1,300 miles) of rocky heartlands, woods and farms. Maintained by clubs, they are marked with blazes - vertical strips painted on trees and rocks - to keep hikers from wandering off the trail and perhaps getting lost. Through each hiking club or association, hikers may purchase guidebooks and maps. Organized volunteer group hikes are often conducted with a group leader as part of a club's program.

HIKE ONTARIO can be contacted at the following address:

Hike Ontario
Box 651, Station K
Toronto, Ontario M4P 2H1

The map opposite indicates the location of the eight long-distance trails. For information on the trails, including maps, please contact the individual hiking trail associations listed on the pages following the map.

THE AVON TRAIL follows the Avon River through Stratford with a side loop that passes the Festival Theatre. Of its 100 km (62 miles), 13 km (8 miles) are within the Wildwood Conservation Area, the remainder cross agricultural land, including farms of the Mennonites near Kitchener. The Avon Trail links the Thames Valley Trail at St. Marys with the Grand Valley Trail at Conestoga.
Contact: Avon Trail, Box 384, Stratford, Ontario N5A 6T3

THE BRUCE TRAIL, Ontario's oldest and longest trail, follows the Niagara Escarpment from Niagara to Tobermory. Geologically fascinating, the Escarpment also provides endless scenic variety - lookouts, grottos, waterfalls, caves, meadows, forests and, for the history buff, ruins of abandoned dams, kilns and mill houses. Its total length is 736 km (460 miles).

Contact: Bruce Trail Association, Box 857 Hamilton, Ontario L8N 3N9.
Tel.: (416) 529-6821. Or contact the Toronto chapter's current-events recording: (416) 690-HIKE.

THE GANARASKA TRAIL follows the Ganaraska River, crosses the Great Pine Ridge and traverses the drumlin fields west of Peterborough. It passes through the Kawartha Lakes and skirts the Minnesing Swamp where waterfowl, mink, muskrat and beaver can be observed. Passing through the Wasaga sand dunes, it follows the Wye River across historic Huronia. Its total length is 200 km (124 miles).

Contact: Ganaraska Trail Association, Box 1136, Barrie, Ontario L4M 5E2

THE GRAND RIVER VALLEY TRAIL follows the Grand river north from Dunnville through Brantford and Paris, with its cobblestone architecture, past Pennsylvania Dutch farms near Kitchener, Cambridge and Waterloo, through the spectacular Elora Gorge, and connects with the Bruce Trail at the village of Alton. Rare butterflies may be seen in Roseville Swamp, coyote, white-tailed deer or red-shouldered hawks in Natches Hills. Total length: 125 km (77 miles).

Contact: Grand Valley Trails Association, Box 1233, Kitchener, Ontario N2G 4G8

THE GUELPH RADIAL TRAIL leads north-easterly from Guelph along an abandoned route of the old Toronto Street Railway to Limehouse, where it joins the Bruce Trail. The Speed River Trail follows the river southwest from Guelph to Cambridge. An unusual concentration of glacial landforms, eskers, moraines, drumlins and out-wash features provide unique sights. Total length: 65 km (40 miles).

Contact: Guelph Trail Club, Box 1, Guelph, Ontario N1H 6J6

THE RIDEAU TRAIL, Ontario's most easterly trail system, is named for the Rideau Canal and River. It extends from Lake Ontario at Kingston to Richmond Landing on the Ottawa River, traversing the wild and sparsely inhabited Canadian Shield - a vast territory of granite, endless forests and countless lakes. Total length: 400 km (250 miles).

Contact: Rideau Trail Association, Box 14, Kingston, Ontario K7L 4V6

THE THAMES VALLEY TRAIL follows the Thames River north through the heart of London, past the University of Western Ontario. Contrast between neat, flat farmlands and steep, wild riverbanks, between formal city parks and debris-covered floor plains, between old historical London and its modern skyline. Total length: 60 km (37 miles).
Contact: Thames Valley Trail Association, Box 821, Terminal B, London, Ontario N6A 4Z3.

THE VOYAGEUR TRAIL, when complete, will be Ontario's longest trail, passing through rugged wilderness of great rocks, forests and deserted beaches. From South Baymouth on Manitoulin Island, through Sault Ste. Marie along the rugged shoreline of Lake Superior to Thunder Bay, some of its points of interest are Killarney and Lake Superior provincial parks, Pukaskwa National Park, Agawa and Michipicoten Falls. Current total length: 412 km (250 miles), with more than 600 km planned. Contact: Voyageur Trail Association, Box 66, Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario P6A 6L2

Ontario landowners have generously allowed trails to be built on their properties, sharing with the public the beauty and tranquility of the countryside. In return, hikers use the Trail User's Code, a promise to respect private land and preserve the environment:

The Trail User's Code

- Hike only along marked routes
- Do not climb fences - use the stiles provided
- Respect the privacy of people living along the trails
- Leave flowers and plants for others to enjoy
- Never strip bark from trees
- Light cooking fires at official campsite locations only. Drench all fires after use. Still better, use a lightweight hiker's stove
- Keep dogs on a leash while on or near farmland
- Walk around the edge of fields - do not cross them
- Leave only your thanks and take nothing but photographs
- Protect - do not disturb wildlife.
- Carry out all garbage. If you can carry it in - you can carry it out!

SOME ADDITIONAL HIKING TRAILS:

The Cup and Saucer Trail is located on Manitoulin Island, just east of West Bay. The trail actually forms part of the north end of the Niagara Escarpment and is so named because one section, when viewed in profile, has the image of a giant cup and saucer. The trail is divided into three different sections - the upper trail, 5.4 km (3 miles) in length; the adventure trail, 2 km (1.2 miles) which is an extension of the upper trail; and the lower trail, 2.7 km (1.7 miles). One of the highlights of the walk is the all-encompassing view of Manitoulin Island that can be seen from the main lookout point.

For further information, contact: Manitoulin Tourist Association, P.O. Box 119, Little Current, Ontario P0P 1K0.

The Seaton Hiking Trail, stretching from Green River in the north to Camp Pidaca in the south, is a live "laboratory" designed to provide a natural science experience. The trail covers a distance of 7.2 km (4.5 miles) and contains three sections - walking, wilderness and heritage - designed to highlight the natural and historic features of the area just north of Pickering.

The Townsend Ski/Hiking Trail winds its way along the attractive Nanticoke Creek Valley, incorporating numerous natural and cultural features that are unique to the area. The trail extends from the historic CNR bridge near Highway 3 in the southern portion of the site to Rockford hamlet in the north. The looped trail provides a total walking or skiing distance of 13.6 km (8.5 miles).

Further information on the Seaton and Townsend trails is available from: Ministry of Government Services, Communications & Services Branch, 12th Floor, Ferguson Block, 77 Wellesley St. West, Toronto, Ontario M5G 2E5.

CYCLING

If walking is too slow for you, but you want to explore more of the countryside than you can watch flashing by the windows of a car, then cycling is your activity. You can take the country roads, feel the breeze in your hair, explore those out-of-the-way places where time itself seems to be moving more slowly. Ontario's rolling farmlands, hills, lakeshores and woods await you.

If you want to take a trip, but would like to eliminate the hassle of worrying where to go, what route to take and where to stay, the following pages list a variety of companies who offered planned and guided tours - some will even have your luggage transported by van from place to place!

If you are just itching to pump up your tires and get out on your own, away from the crowds, here is some information to help you on your way:

Cycling is permitted on all Ontario roads with the exception of controlled access highways such as the 400 series (Highway 401, 403, etc.), the Queen Elizabeth Way, Toronto's Don Valley Parkway, the Gardiner Expressway, and Ottawa's Queensway. Ontario Travel can provide information on what to see and do, and a copy of the Ontario Official Road Map. More detailed maps of individual counties or districts are available at a cost of $2.97 (inc. tax) from:

Ontario Ministry of Transportation
Administrative Services Office
Map Unit, East Bldg.
1201 Wilson Avenue
Downsview, Ontario M3M 1J8
Tel: (416) 235-4339

The Ontario Cycling Association represents the interests of cyclists in Ontario, and can supply a variety of information. A series of seven maps designed specifically for cycle touring is currently available at a cost of $4.00 per map, $22 per set (reduced rates for members), as follows:

- Map 1 - Southwestern Ontario (Windsor/London areas)
- Map 2 - Western Ontario (London/Waterloo areas)
- Map 3 - Bruce Peninsula/Manitoulin Island
- Map 4 - Golden Horseshoe (Niagara/Toronto areas)
- Map 5 - Muskoka/Haliburton
- Map 6 - Lake Ontario/St. Lawrence (Peterborough/Kingston areas)
- Map 7 - Ottawa Valley (Ottawa/Renfrew & Ottawa Valley)

When you travel in Ontario, put visiting a Travel Centre at the top of your list. At each of our 18 centres, professional travel counsellors can help you get the most out of your vacation.

They can guide you toward historic sites, recommend a scenic drive or tell you what shows are in town.

You can pick up brochures and pamphlets to help you. So start your trip right. Visit a Travel Centre — before you go anywhere else.
